

Would you like to create Lillomarka World Stars in Orienteering?

One of Norway's top clubs, Lillomarka orienteering team in Oslo, is looking for a new head coach to develop our talented youth, junior and senior athletes.

Part time employment between 20 – 40 percentage job, wages to be agreed upon with the trainer.

The basic conditions of the team are very good.

There is a nice mixture of social acceptance and milieu and a well developed culture for training, goal setting and achievement. The athletes are highly motivated. Economic conditions of the club are solid, and so is the social fundament, with 300 members in Lillomarka.

Lillomarka has for some years now climbed steadily towards the world top. In 2017 we set a new record with a 6th spot in the mens Tiomila relay and a 11th place in the womens relay. Lillomarka also has several team members participating in WOC every year for some time now.

We have a good supporting team with several "secondary" coaches, one manager/sports administrator and one person responsible for map-printing. Of course these persons will be there to assist you.

Cooperative skills will therefore be important.

You can rely on a lot of help from the rest of the trainer-team, and especially from our manager Vidar Benjaminsen. This will make your work easier.

The position may therefore be combined with your own top carrier if you have that kind of ambitions. WOC 2019 is a goal for some of Lillomarkas runners, and maybe one of yours as well.

We are looking for you if you for instants are either

- A student with ambitions to become a top trainer in orienteering
- Elite athlete/orienteer with need of extra income and a desire to achieve personal development
- Experienced trainer or former athlete with a desire for success

There are a lot of different kinds of backgrounds and reasons for applying that might be interesting to us.

We would like the trainer to start whenever he/she is ready, but hopefully within a couple of months.

We can assist you in finding a place to live (i e. rental apartment).

Interested?
